Geri Clouse: Owner Family Matters Education

Empowering Children Through Positive Discipline

Children can't just change negative, inappropriate behavior. It's not enough to tell a young child to, "Use your words," "Make good choices." For kids to change negative behavior, we must teach them the positive, appropriate skills and the words to use and also involve them in problem solving and brainstorming.

Carla Mata: Special Education Teacher

Working with Children with Special Needs

In this workshop, participants will learn about various disabilities and strategies to use while working with children with special needs. Participants will be provided resources and materials to use that will help give them a better understanding of these disabilities to make everyone successful.

Dr. Monica Gutierrez: Associate Professor of Education – Rio Grande College

Indoor Play

We know the benefits of outdoor play and how it assists children with motor skills development. What about indoor play? Why is it so important? In this session, we will discuss the benefits of indoor play. We will also have time for participants to share some of their favorite indoor activities.

Dr. Connie Sheppard: County Extension Agent– Texas A&M AgriLife Extension, Comal County

Let's Eat Them Veggies

If they grow them, they shall eat them. Come get some hands on ideas for cooking and growing activities for your daycare classroom.
